1Job.co.uk Goes Mobile

1Job.co.uk, one of the country's leading job search engines, is the first to adopt the new mobile technology that allows people to search for jobs while on the move.

Working with Zappy Mobile in Milton Keynes, 1Job.co.uk has created a mobile version of the already easy to use search engine, which can be accessed from mobile phones. www.1job.mobi has been created to allow job hunters to make more use of their time while commuting to work, waiting for the train, or if they do not want to use the Internet to look for a new job while at work.

1Job.co.uk contains hundreds of thousands of jobs in the UK and Ireland that can be searched by job title, description or location. Over 100,000 new jobs are added to the site every day. The mobile version allows visitors access to exactly the same free service while they are away from a computer. The site has been specially designed to be viewed on a mobile phone screen, rather than a computer screen, with the information being easy to see without endless scrolling. When a job hunter finds a position they are interested in, they can click to see a short description of that job. If they are still interested and want to know more about that particular position, they can request further information to be emailed to them.

Julian Felstead, Sales Director of 1Job says: "The 1Job search engine is already established as one of the most popular resource sites with serious job hunters in the UK and Ireland. Providing our visitors with this mobile resource was a natural development for the business, allowing us to keep up with the requirements of our job hunters, as they embrace mobile technology."

1Job.co.uk is a job search engine that candidates use when looking for their perfect jobs. The search engine sends job seeker candidates directly to the vacancy advert on its customers' websites enabling them to easily view the full job details and apply. 1Job sends over 1,000,000 candidate click thrus to its customer's sites each month and is ranked in the top 10 most used sites by job hunters in the UK (source Hitwise).

Westley Gillard, Sales Director of Zappy Mobile says “working together in partnership with 1Job we can also offer customers a low cost dedicated mobile site of their own enabling job boards and agencies the opportunity of putting their jobs in millions of mobile phone users pockets”
